Mrs. Len. Leutinger has gone to Ohio to visit several months with relatives.

Mrs. Henry Lovin and daughter departed Thursday evening for the seacoast.

Mrs. I. D. Hilly and children have gone to Prescott for a few months visit with relatives.

Hon. E. E. Ellinwood passed through Kingman Thursday evening on his way to Los Angeles, where he will look after legal business.

T. C. Howell, of Pick & Drill, is hard at work on his writeup of Mohave county, which is to appear in the July issue of that journal.

R. J. Holmes, the well known mining operator, has gone to St. Louis, where he will attend the democratic national convention as an alternate delegate from this territory.

Wilfred Babcock, a well known miner of this section, who has been working in the mines of Pinal county for several months past, arrived in Kingman early this week and has gone to Stockton Hill.

A large amount of beautiful rock has been received for the mineral claims, soon to be built near the depot. It is expected that enough minerals will be received by the 20th to begin work on the first monument.

Mrs. Carrie Peters, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. I. M. George the past month, has gone to her home in Pennsylvania. Stanle George accompanied her and will visit with his grandparents for several months.

T. C. Howell, assistant in the field for Pick and Drill, will leave for the Gold Road country in a few days. The Progressive Association has purchased 10,000 copies of the July issue of that journal, and are greatly aiding in the general arrangement of the work. The edition will consist of 30,000 copies.

Don't overlook the fact that Monday will be the Fourth of July, and that on the evening of that day the Elks Building company is to give a ball in the new opera house. One dollar per couple is the price of admission. Splendid music will be furnished. Supper can be had at any of the restaurants for the usual price.

Judge W. C. Campbell, of Los Angeles, who is engaged in interesting the people of Kingman in irrigation matters in the arid region, was in Kingman yesterday interviewing our business men. Judge Campbell is an enthusiastic irrigationist and is doing good work for the cause of government reclamation of desert lands.

Don. Catlin, who is in charge of the mines of the Wallace mining company at Eldorado Canyon, is working a force of men and getting good results. The mines carry good values in gold and silver. Mr. Wallace, president of the company, is well known to Mohave county people. He has had considerable experience in the mines of South Africa.

The amount of taxable property in Mohave county is approximately 1, 100,000$, a few thousand dollars in excess of that of last year. While Gold Road and Leland show an increase other towns—as instance Chloride—shows a decrease. No assessment is made against the Santa Fe railroad, owing to the agreement to pay to the county 17.5¢ per mile of main line of track, and upon which no computation of values is made. No listment or levy is made against the Arizona & Utah or Mohave & Milltown railroads owing to exemption under the law.

See Tarr & McComb, Inc., for special prices on lumber, building material, mining timbers, sash and doors.

Cheerfully Recommended For Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes, Dec. 2, 1911: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction." 25c, 50c, 1.00$. Sold by H. H. Watkins.

J. W. Haas, of Mineral Park, is in Kingman on business.

Cal. Wilson and G. Charles Davis visited the mining fields below Yucca this week.

Will Grounds, the young cattleman of Hackberry, was in Kingman a few days ago.

E. S. Osborn returned last evening from a visit to his mines in the Bill Williams Fork country.

Mrs. Ida Crozier, of Truxton ranch, visited with her daughter, Miss Launee, in Kingman a few days ago.

Ed. Carrow is running a stage line daily from Kingman to Stockton Hill and is doing a good business.

George M. Bowers, who has been developing the Pan Yan mine, at Layne Springs, is resting up in Kingman.

George Miller, owner of a number of promising mining properties in the Silver Creek country, is in Kingman.

I. M. George, Kingman's genial purveyor of meats, was at Peach Springs several days this week purchasing cattle.

Mr. H. B. McComb, who has been in Kingman for several weeks past, departed for his home in Los Angeles Thursday last.

John Tarr, a brother of N. W. and Jesse A., arrived from the old home in Wisconsin a few days ago and will take up his residence here.

Mrs. R. A. Robertson, who has been visiting the old home in California for several months past, returned to Kingman last Sunday evening.

Work on the Keystone mine, at Mineral Park, is progressing nicely. This is one of the best mines of that section and is capable of outputting a large tonnage.

Edna Steen is running a twice-a-week stage line to Cedar Valley from Yucca, which makes quite a convenience to the people of that section. Small articles and light freight is carried by the stage, as well as passengers.

George H. Goebel, a young carpenter, will discourse on socialism in Kingman next Tuesday evening. The socialists of the county will hold their first county convention next Tuesday and it is expected that a full county and legislative ticket will be nominated.

Lovin & Withers informs us that the carload of melons, ordered by them for the Fourth of July, were destroyed by fire on the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railroad yesterday. Practically the entire carload was disposed of. An attempt will be made to get another carload from another point.

I. W. Hawkins, president of the Gold Creek mining company, is in New York City on business of the company. It is probable that upon his return to this county work will be commenced on the mines of the company and machinery installed for the purpose of sinking to a depth of several hundred feet.

Miss Frankie Potts, who has been teaching at the U. S. Indian school, near Trinidad, Colorado, arrived in Kingman Thursday evening and will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pott, for several weeks. Miss Potts has many warm friends in Kingman who are pleased to have her again among them.

Deputy Sheriff J. P. Gideon returned from a trip to Yuma and Ehrenburg, where he went in search of Jose Sagala, murderer of Kate Burkhart, near Signal, on the night of June 22. Sagala arrived in Yuma the same night he did, but was hid away by a friend until the officer departed, when he was sent on his road. It is reported that he has been arrested in Phoenix.

Northern Yuma and southern Mohave counties have been the scene of two atrocious murders the past two weeks, both caused by jealousy. At Harrisburg, a few days ago, a Mexican named Ignacio Samaniego enticed one Pedro Erive into the desert to look at a purported placer flad and while the latter was bending down looking at the ground the former crushed his head with a big rock. Samaniego was enamoured of the wife of Erive and thought that by putting the husband out of the way the woman would live with him. The murderer, after the crime, went to the home of his victim and told the horrible story of the crime to the wife and asked her to go with him. She refused and informed the officers. Samaniego is now in the Yuma jail awaiting trial.

Cecil Rhodes on Mining.

The late Cecil Rhodes made his colossal fortune from the bowels of the earth, and what he had to say regarding mining ought to have some weight. Perhaps few men are better able to speak from the cards than was the dead financier and empire builder of South Africa. And here is what he says:

"I speak advisedly and say what every man who has investigated knows to be the truth, that less money is lost proportionately in mining investments and in mining stocks than in any other business or investment on earth. A good mining stock will pay the investor more easily 20, 30, 40, 50 and 100 per cent. annually than municipal bonds, railroad bonds and stock or government bonds which can possibly pay five per cent. Money invested in good mining stocks is safer than in a bank, than in mortgages, railroad securities, municipal or government bonds.

"The security of a good mining stock is the raw material of money itself; it is what we call in Africa the 'stuff'; it is the 'stuff' at whose feet governments, cities, banks, railroads, mortgages, land corporations, and all forms of business kneel.

"I speak only of the gold and silver mines, from the metal of which blooms and blossoms the everlasting dollar; the crude metal in our gold and silver mines is the first and best security in all the world. This is what makes banks and banking a possibility, this is what gives legs to a municipality, spine to a government, and creates the business of the world into a living, breathing, active creature of life.

"Buy a good mining stock, buy it low; when it has doubled or quadrupled, sell it; buy another good mining stock; pursue this policy and before you dream of it you will find that your dollars have increased to thousands, your thousands to millions, and during all this time your dividends have been 100 per cent. higher than any they would have been in any other investment you could have made."

The New York Herald says that in this country labor cannot exist half slave and half free. If union men are to remain free to organize and to agitate and quit work if their demands are not complied with, then other workmen must be equally free to step out of organizations and to sell their labor where and when and on what terms are acceptable to themselves. Unless this right is maintained, and at any cost, our institutions are doomed, and free popular government must be pronounced a failure.

The editor this week visited the Cedar country and was surprised with the great lack of water in that section, the drought being very severe. A few years ago, Deluge Wash, one of the largest of the ravines running away from the Berkely mine, ran a river of water, but today it is as dry as a powder house. The same is true of all the rest of the mountain section.

Leasers on the Gold Road mines are making money.

See Tarr & McComb, Inc., for special prices on lumber, building material, mining timbers, sash and doors.

The first grand drawing for round trip to the World's Fair will take place at the store of Lovin & Withers this evening, Saturday, July 2d. Everyone holding tickets in the drawing should be there with their tickets.

Do It Today.

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it today—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Mrs. M. B. Eggers has gone to Prescott to look after business affairs.

R. R. Ripley, formerly with the Gold Road mining company, is now in charge of the Iron Springs Hotel, at Manitou, Colorado, where he invites all his friends in Mohave county to visit him. Should they all drop in at once the hostelry will be somewhat overcrowded, as he has a host of friends in this county. Manitou is a lovely place during the summer season and should Mohavans feel like enjoying the mountain breezes they could not find a better place.

The Boston Herald, itself an admirable type of the independent newspaper, remarks: "How many party organs are there left among the great newspapers of the country? They can be counted on one's fingers and the few that are left are not always to be relied upon as truly loyal. The most marked change in American journalism of late years has been its development of independence.

Elk Ball.

The Elk Building Company members are to give a grand ball at the new opera house on the evening of July Fourth. Admission will be one dollar per couple. Everybody is invited to come and enjoy the dance in the spacious hall to the best of music.

List of letters remaining in the post office for the week ending Thursday: Patrick Driscoll 20, D. J. Alberg, Mrs. Vera Maslen, Wilfred P. Parker, C. F. Johnston, Chas. Wolfe, Tomor Gunols.

See Tarr & McComb, Inc., for special prices on lumber, building material, mining timbers, sash and doors.

Ten Dollars Reward.

I will pay 10$ reward for the return of my sawed off shotgun, which was stolen from the livery stable a few days ago.

HENRY LOVIN.

Lovin & Withers will have a carload of Phenix watermelons on the Fourth. Be sure and get one of the luscious fruit.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kans., May 5, 1902: Ballard Snow Liniment Co.: Your Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allensville, Mifflin Co., Pa., has a sore and mistrusts that it is a cancer. Please send her a 50c bottle. For sale by H. H. Watkins.
